Competition Program

Individual competitions in the three disciplines:

- * Rhythmic Gymnastics,
- * Women's Artistic Gymnastics and
- * Men's Artistic Gymnastics

There are two divisions for each discipline:

- Children and
- Juniors

Scoring

1) Team scoring “ASVÖ Cup” (no change compared to previous version)

One team consists of max.

- 2 rhythmic gymnasts (1x Child, 1x Junior),
- 4 female artistic gymnasts (2x Children, 2x Juniors) and
- 4 male artistic gymnasts (2x Children, 2x Juniors).

Each gymnast gets points depending on the place of scoring; the higher the individual result, the higher the points.

The five best individual results per team (regardless of discipline) count for the team score as follows:

- every 1st place 25 points
- every 2nd place 20 points
- every 3rd place 15 points
- every 4th place 14 points and so on... until finally every 17th place gets 1 point. No points for the following places.

2) Individual scoring (no change compared to previous version)

As usual, individual all-around scores determine the best individualist.

3) “Hanspeter Demetz” Trophy

Lastly, the best MAG gymnast on floor earns a special price, the “Hanspeter Demetz” trophy, to honour our recently passed away Tyrolean gymnastics icon Hanspeter Demetz, as floor exercise was his standout piece of apparatus during his career as an artistic gymnast.

Covid-19

Due to the on-going coronavirus pandemic, it is important to note federative involvement in the conduction of international gymnastics competitions.

The Austrian Gymnastics Federation (ÖFT) reserves the right to authorise international gymnastics competitions. In doing so, the ÖFT is entitled to demand a negative Covid-19 test not only from the legally relevant test group, but also from other accredited guests.

However, these are only the current regulations concerning international gymnastics competitions. As it is nearly impossible to predict the future evolution of the coronavirus pandemic, information regarding the exact participation procedure will be sent out as early as possible. The actual execution of the competition will then correspond to the contemporary organisational measures.
